«The Horse» Project

Since 2016 collaboratively on the move

Teachers, learners, and institutions receive innovative opportunities to conduct collaboration projects in an international context.

The «The Horse» concept demands and promotes professional, social, linguistic and media skills. No preparation or prior knowledge required!

Collaborative Environmental Projects by Youth

Forming Teams, Planning and Realizing Projects

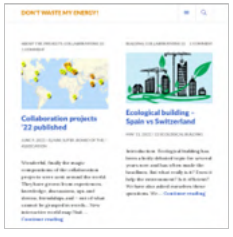

In a password-protected area, 'The Horse Collab', teams are formed and project ideas are discussed and collaboratively worked on.

Ambassadors and simple tools support communication across cultural boundaries and are available to teachers and learners.

From imagination to on-site research – 7 steps form the guidelines. Contributions to former projects (> 4,000) are available.

Publishing Projects

Each team receives its own account and independently publishes their contribution on the website dontwastemy.energy.

Teachers and learners gain knowledge of a CMS, text design, copyright, quality standards and web publishing.

Interviews with experts, videos, pictures, surveys, etc. are created, reviewed, refined and published.

Making Feedback and Global Impact Known

Instagram and other social media channels are available for promotion. Experts are specifically asked for feedback.

These projects have a global and lasting impact: In 2025, the website dontwastemy.energy recorded over 233,000 visits and more than 1.1 million page views.

Even after a project is completed, all team members are automatically notified if there are comments on their project.
